Moscow Says Nazis Are Los-

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—With German losses now averaging the appalling figure of a full division or 15,000 men daily, the battle of Stalingrad roared into its second month today and new successes were reported for the counter-attacking Russians.

The Nazi losses included such incidents as the dynamiting by Soviet sappers of one of Stalingrad's main business buildings which had been occupied by the enemy. The large structure crumbled under a deafening roar when 250 pounds of dynamite were exploded by five Red army men who had volunteered to carry 50 pounds of explosives each.

At the same time, Soviet troops cut a main road at Goroditscha, five miles northwest of Stalingrad, dislodging the Germans from an occupied locality, probably Goroditscha itself.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The large Nazi submarine base at Flensburg on Germany's north coast was blasted during the night by heavy bombers of the Royal Air Force, the air ministry announced today.

Other objectives in north and northwest Germany also were attacked, the communiqué said.

The assault was centered on the submarine building yards at Flensburg, in Schleswig-Holstein, the air ministry said.

Besides being an important ship-building center Flensburg is a vital industrial port. Iron and copper foundries are located in the city.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 24.—Robert Smith Nash, 26-year-old son of an attorney for the Internal Revenue Department, today was held for the brutal slayings of his parents whose bodies and mutilated bodies were found in the abandoned family automobile near Springfield, Ill.

Stone-faced and without the least sign of remorse, Nash made a full confession to the murders, Capt. Leonard Murphy, acting chief of police announced.

Report Confession

According to the statement, the young man killed the middle-aged couple with a Boy Scout axe late Monday night in the exclusive residential area of Clayton, three miles from St. Louis. Then he piled the bodies into the car and drove madly through the night into Illinois where he finally left the machine after a tire blew out.

The crime was committed, authorities quoted the prisoner as saying, as Nash and his parents, Mr. and (Continued On Page Two)

French Urged To Evacuate Coastal Area

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A new promise that a second front will be opened on the continent of Europe by the United Nations was given today to the French people as reports were received of further feverish activity by the Nazis to combat invasion.

An announcement by the British Broadcasting company, speaking in French, again urged the people of France to evacuate the coastal areas and to take other precautions.

"An offensive by the United Nations is being prepared," the BBC broadcast said.

The attack will be made without warning, the announcer said, but Frenchmen wishing to aid the United Nations in lifting the yoke of the Nazis will be fully advised in sufficient time.

"During the last six months we have given a series of warnings and recommendations to the French people of the occupied zone," said the announcer.

"These warnings all had the same objective, to prevent as far as humanly possible the shedding of French blood. In the course of our military operations it was necessary, and today it is more necessary than ever, to envisage the possibility of landings by British and Allied troops on French soil, of operations by our navy in French territorial waters and attacks by the Royal Air Force on military objectives in occupied France."

Jeffers Seeks Plan To Keep

By ARTHUR F. HERMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—William Jeffers, the new rubber czar, today is expected to announce his plans for nation-wide gasoline rationing but softening the blow for the country's motorists by revealing a broad program to keep tires on most of the automobiles in the United States.

Jeffers, appointed on recommendation of the War Relocation Authority, is engaged in a continuous round of conferences with government officials, including RFC's Chairman Jesse Jones, OPA's chief Leon Henderson, ODT's head Joseph Eastman and Donald M. Nelson, WEP chairman.

Working silently but with the energy that marked his rise from office boy to president of the Union Pacific Railroad, Jeffers was said by persons close to him to believe that 90 or 95 per cent of all cars in the nation are for essential purposes at some time or the other and must be kept rolling.

May Be Effective In November

But he was said to be planning to be just as insistent that non-essential driving of all cars be halted. For that reason, he is expected to order nation-wide gasoline rationing to go into effect around November 15 or November 22, and also demand a country-wide speed limit of 35 miles an hour, possibly imposed through an executive order by President Roosevelt.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS IN Australia, Sept. 24.—American Fly Fortresses and speedy fighters are keeping up their ceaseless hammering of Japanese bases and supply lines in New Guinea in the allied pattern of strategy which calls for the smashing of enemy attempts to supply ground forces checked in their overland drive against Port Moresby.

The latest foray by the Flying Fortresses again was directed at the Japanese base at Buna, on the southeastern coast of New Guinea where the enemy made one of his first landings on the big island. The Fortresses swept over the enemy's airfield under the cover of darkness and dropped one-ton bombs on their target.

Large Fires At Buna

Large fires were left by the fortresses at Buna, which has been repeatedly attacked by American bombers and fighters. The fighters have unloosed hundreds of rounds of machine gun and cannon fire in their efforts to make the base untenable for the Japanese.

Four strong sweeps were made by allied fighters in their latest assaults against Japanese supply lines. The operations covered a three hour period and considerable damage was inflicted, a communiqué said. The fighters also singled out enemy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Senate leaders today failed, temporarily at least, to effect a compromise with the "farm bloc" on the anti-inflation bill in a conference which began breaking up when three farm state senators walked out of it.

A new compromise for the Thomas-Hatch amendment, which President Roosevelt has opposed because it would write a new definition of parity into the law and raise farm price ceilings, was to be submitted later to farm leaders.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—President Roosevelt today stood on the brink of the most crushing congressional defeat he has suffered since outbreak of the war in the "farm bloc" battle to enact a new definition of parity that would boost ceiling prices on many farm products. All farm labor costs would be included in arriving at parity prices.

The "farm bloc" won half its battle last night when the House passed the anti-inflation bill by a vote of 284 to 96 with the parity amendment, expressly disapproved by Mr. Roosevelt, included.

Senate leaders summoned a bipartisan conference in an effort to work out a compromise before the Senate reaches a showdown vote on the same issue, perhaps late today.

Butler Sanatorium To Be Military Hospital

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—The general state authority has concluded negotiations with the U. S. Army to lease the $3,000,000 state sanatorium at Butler, Gov. Arthur H. James announced today. The institution will be used as a military hospital.

Terms of the agreement have not yet been completed, but I don't think it will be long," the governor said.

It was reported that the army, in consideration for the use of the sanatorium, which was constructed during the Earle administration but never opened, will assume the charges on institution bonds held by two state employees' retirement funds.

The hospital has 600 beds, is now completed and fully equipped, the governor stated. He said the bed capacity no doubt would be increased because the sanatorium was originally constructed as a tuberculosis institution and the army would remodel the interior to permit more extensive use of its facilities.

Council Given Invitation To Mass Meeting

Rev. W. A. Thornton Tells Them He Will Discuss Deplorable Conditions Here

Rev. W. A. Thornton, pastor of Epworth Methodist church, today visited council in session in city hall and invited the body to attend a mass meeting in his church Sunday night when he said he will describe the deplorable conditions which he asserted exists in the liquor business here.

He said he had invited all of the beer men of the city to be present and said: "I am not sticking my neck out. I know whereof I speak. However, I do not stab in the back or hit below the belt."

In inviting council, he said: "It is my job to invite you all. I am going to say things to your face."

The pastor declared that the proposed mass meeting which will be followed, he said by others in other churches, is not for the purpose of bringing prohibition but to make conditions better here. He said he desired protection for minors, womanhood and the physical being of people.

He said, "I believe in public opinion. If this fails, we will make a local option campaign. We did it before and we can do it again."

It was indicated by council that those who care to attend the meeting can do so without the invitation being formally accepted.

Stimson Probes Plans For Louis And Conn Fight

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson today announced that he is making a personal investigation into the arrangements for the Joe Louis-Billy Conn heavyweight championship fight set for October 12 in New York.

The secretary said that he was "shocked" when he learned of the "details" of the fight—obviously referring to the plans to give Louis $100,951 and Conn $34,500 from the proceeds of the bout with which to pay debts owed to Promoter Mike Jacobs Twenty Century Sporting club.

The championship bout between the two service men originally was planned by the war department to give all proceeds to army relief. "I don't know of the details of that fight until this morning," the secretary said at his weekly press conference.

"I've been shocked at the situation and am making a personal investigation. Aside from that I have nothing to say."

Rep. O'Toole (D) N. Y., yesterday introduced a resolution into the House calling for an official investigation of the war department in connection with the arrangements for the fight.

The resolution would probe into the "apparent favoritism" shown by the army to certain members of the armed forces in permitting them to engage in their "former civilian pursuits for compensation."

Japan Making Propaganda Claims

Seeking Facts On U. S. Strength

Apparently Planning For
New Attempt At Offense
In Pacific

USING OLD TRICK WITHOUT SUCCESS

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—Recent Axis propaganda claims that seven U. S. aircraft carriers have been sunk to date in the Pacific today were interpreted by naval analysts as an indication that Japan is preparing to strike again and is seeking information on the whereabouts of American fleet units.

While a counter-invasion attempt to retake the Solomons from U. S. forces was considered by navy men to be the most likely Japanese move, they warned that the enemy is crafty enough to do the unexpected—attack again in the Hawaiian area or the Aleutians.

The latest Axis "fishing" expedition for war information took the form of propaganda broadcasts from Berlin and Rome based on Tokyo sources that the United States has lost its entire pre-war carrier fleet.

Rome Exaggerations
The Rome radio blatantly stated that U. S. losses in the Pacific to date total six battleships, seven aircraft carriers, 13 cruisers and eight destroyers.

Naval officials in Washington would not even comment on the obviously untrue broadcasts. The navy to date has announced the sinkings of the carriers Lexington and Yorktown. The figure seven was used by the Axis because that was the number of these ships the U. S. had before the Pearl Harbor attack.

As in the past, the Axis apparently made the exaggerated claims in the hope that an official denial in Washington might give them a clue on where the remaining carriers are.

Japan's Anxiety Seen
Japan's anxiety about disposition of the U. S. carriers is understandable, considering the fact that these vessels played major roles in smashing Japanese invasion armadas in the Coral Sea and Midway battles and recently in the Solomons.

It is also understandable in view of the fact that at least 14 Japanese carriers have been sunk or damaged to date in the Pacific by American army and navy forces.

Japan is known to have other carriers in reserve, but the enemy obviously is unwilling to risk them unless they can be certain of striking in an area where they have temporary naval superiority.

Even without helpful information on the whereabouts of America's fleet units, naval analysts feel certain that Japan is going to strike before the United States has more time to reinforce and strengthen their Pacific outposts from the Aleutians to the Solomons.

SON CONFESSES KILLING PARENTS

Mrs. Charles A. Nash, stood on a Clayton street arguing over the father's refusal to lend the son $600 to pay off debts.

As released by police, young Nash's statement asserted:

"I had not decided beforehand to kill my parents, nor did I plan their murders. It just happened, I guess.

"Killed Them Both"
"I killed them both last Monday night after we had driven around the St. Louis county area in our family car for about three hours. I was driving the car, while my dad sat in the front seat and mother in the back seat.

"We had a heated argument going on all the time. It had started about 6 p. m. at home. The argument concerned money and personal differences concerning my actions over a period of 18 months.

"The argument got pretty hot. I was tired, so I stopped in a secluded area . . . finally my father called me some names. I struck him and he struck me back. Then we got going pretty fast with our fists. All this time we were sitting in the parked car.

Mother Remonstrates
"Finally, I left the car, walked back to the right rear. My father followed me, still hollering and beating me. Then we continued the scuffle with our fists. My mother got out of the back of the car to separate us. I remember striking her, but I didn't mean to.

"My mother remonstrated with us, pleading for information took the form of propaganda broadcasts from Berlin and Rome based on Tokyo sources that the United States has lost its entire pre-war carrier fleet.

"I swung first at my father, hit him three or four times on the head and shoulders until he went down. My mother shrieked as she saw him fall. She started to beat me, shouting, 'Look what you've done, you brute.' That made me even more angry.

"I wanted off several blows. Then I swung the axe at my mother's head and on several parts of her body. She groaned and fell. I must have hit her 30 times before she fell.

"I saw my father was dead and so I placed his body in the back of the car. I then placed my mother's body in the back seat of the car, closed the door, got in, and started driving.

PLANNING FOR NATION-WIDE GAS RATIONING

wide gasoline rationing, and "car mileage rationing"—and it may be called by the latter name—is comparatively simple.

Most of Jefferson time was said to be occupied with plans to expand the synthetic rubber industry and the program to provide recapped or reclaimed tires for most of America's motorists.

Pending Jefferson's final approval, a plan has been drawn up to give essential drivers, those who will be allowed to drive above 7,000 miles a year, the best recapped tires available and force them to turn in their old tires for recapping to be issued to so-called less essential drivers.

Jefferson's program also envisions enough rubber for civilian use to make more than 23,000,000 tires during the next 16 months, all of them from reclaimed rubber. Some of the rubber, however, may be diverted to a recapping program, but it is known that the program may make available more than 2,000,000 tires a month in 1943. On top of that may be a supply of synthetic, thio-kol, said to be ideal for recapping tires if speeds are kept down.

HALF OF PARITY BATTLE IS WON BY FARM BLOC

Elmer Thomas (D) Okla., author of the Senate amendment, said that he would not retreat from his position.

Backing up Thomas, organized agriculture predicted a substantial Senate victory for the parity amendment and declared that should President Roosevelt veto the legislation he must accept responsibility for the future food and fiber supply of the nation. The agricultural group was represented by the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Association.

Bitter House supporters of the President's position charged that the so-called anti-inflation bill—demanded by Mr. Roosevelt under his "you-do-it-or-I-will" message—had been turned into an inflation measure that will boost cost of living and threaten the war effort.

Administration leaders, including Democratic House Leader McCormack, predicted that Mr. Roosevelt will veto the bill if it contains the "farm bloc" amendment and proceed to stabilize wages and prices under his war powers.

Leaders Are Dejected

The chosen administration pilots of both the Senate and House were dejected. They saw their hopes of complying with Mr. Roosevelt's demand for anti-inflation legislation by October 1 fading away. They saw both the Senate and House torn with dissension when they hoped to achieve unity on a war measure to hold down the cost of living and check inflation.

Democratic Leader Buckley called into conference Republican Senate Leader McNary, Senators Brown (D) Mich., Bankhead (D) Ala., Hatch (D) N. M., Tyding (D) Md., and Thomas.

A tentative compromise proposal framed by Senators Reed (R) Kas., Bankhead and Tydings, was before the group. The compromise was to abandon the new definition of parity, to include all farm labor costs, and instead require the President to lift farm commodity ceilings if labor costs have risen.

"Inasmuch as my amendment to include farm labor costs in defining parity was approved by farm groups and the Senate agricultural committee, I am in no position to abandon it," said Thomas.

"I cannot agree to the proposition they make. I think my amendment is a good thing psychologically. The farmers are patriotic, but I think that if they are turned down they may cut production."

Would Lift Parity

Farm experts advised the Senate that the Thomas amendment would lift parity to 112 1/2 per cent. One of the major purposes for which Mr. Roosevelt sought congressional action was to eliminate the present 110 per cent of parity ceiling in the present price control law.

The amendment would permit sharp increases in the prices of wheat, corn, cotton and some other farm products. A few already are above 110 per cent.

The House passed the bill after an upsurge session. Rep. Brown (D) Ga., sponsored the parity amendment which is similar to the Thomas proposal.

It first was adopted on a standing vote, 163 to 105. Administration leaders made an effort to strike it out on a roll call vote but it carried, 202 to 172.

The House bill, which differs sharply from the Senate measure, generally authorizes the President to stabilize prices and wages as of August 15. However, he is prevented from going below the highest prices and wages from January 1 to September 15.

A wage amendment prohibits him from preventing an increase in wages of 15 per cent above January 1, 1941. This is the "Little Steel" formula, and would permit a boost in wages of 25 per cent of the manufacturing employees of the country.

barges, a supply dump and a hastily erected Japanese camp for their heavy attacks.

Seven barges were spied by the fighter planes and they raked the enemy ships with cannon and machine gun fire. The attacks against Japanese supply dumps and camp were also made in this initial sweep.

Other Forays
Other forays by the fighters were directed against Japanese anti-aircraft positions, supply huts and tents. An enemy pack train was spotted attempting to cross a bridge in the Kokoda sector, at the foot of the Owen Stanley mountain range where the Japanese succeeded in passing through a gap, and the fighter planes strafed both the bridge and the pack train. The results were not observed.

Allied ground forces still held Japanese troops pinned to the slopes of the Owen Stanley range, the latest communique reporting that the position in this sector was unchanged. The Japanese are approximately 32 airline miles from their objective, Port Moresby, and action in this area for the past few days has been confined to patrol activity.

According to letters received here from local lads in the U. S. service at present in Alaska, it is they have a difficult time in adjusting themselves to the long days and long nights. Another incident which is related, is that instructions are given as to what to do, when the sun shines—just as we are given for blackouts, presumably.

We note in the news that accumulating stacks of coins by grown-ups and children in jars and "piggy" banks while saving up the price of a war bond is a practice that is putting a strain on the national mints in the effort to keep up to the increase in demand for coins.

In chase of war savings stamps in varying denominations, instead of hoarding coins until a certain sum is saved, would help to relieve the strain on the mints and a drain on the national supply of metal.

The extent to which old jalopies are gradually going off the road through lack of tires was revealed by Coroner T. F. Nugent, who stated today that in many of his visits about the county, he has seen several old wrecks stranded along the roadside, their tires having finally blown out, and they had no replacements, so they were left right there.

Motorists are beginning to get some sense and are driving slower, a local man, who returned from Erie the other day stated. He did not drive over 40 miles an hour on the trip down, and there were mighty few who tried to pass him.

Local gasoline stations had a tremendous run late yesterday, when a rumor, which spread like wild fire, was circulated throughout the city that gasoline rationing would go into effect at midnight. One gas dealer stated that one driver even brought around a 50-gallon drum which he wanted filled. Needless to say, he wasn't accommodated. All gas stations felt the effect of the rumor, however, and there was plenty of gasoline sold. And it was just a rumor. Gasoline rationing will receive plenty of advance notice when it starts.

Owners of big auto-carrying trucks in North Carolina are planning to convert them into passenger vehicles for the duration.

Pegler might as well dry up. No government sees any evil in groups that keep it in power.

SECOND MONTH OF STALINGRAD BATTLE BEGINS

the Caspian sea fleet lobbing shells into the Nazi lines, from moorings in the Volga, the tempo of the battle mounted steadily.

Many dramatic incidents were reported in front-line dispatches.

At one point on the outskirts of Stalingrad where the Germans tried to break through, women workers in a tank factory leaped into tanks still standing uncommissioned in the factory yards and drove them against the Nazis, holding the enemy until nightfall when Russian reinforcements arrived.

Many of the women were killed in the engagement, but the German thrust was beaten off.

Meanwhile, the Germans brought up new reinforcements and intensified their pressure in the Novorossisk-Mozdok area in an effort to capture a number of key heights. The red army made frequent powerful counter-attacks.

Major Attacks Repulsed

Two major attacks were repulsed in this sector, one with a spearhead of 60 tanks. Another Russian attack in a different area put another 60 tanks out of action.

Russian marines, supported by gunboats which laid down a heavy barrage, repulsed fierce enemy attacks north of Stalingrad and captured an inhabited locality, inflicting "considerable" losses on the enemy.

Other Soviet forces which three days ago retook an important height overlooking Stalingrad cleared several more streets and widened their theatre of operations. On many sectors, the Germans now have been forced on the offensive.

The resurgent Soviet defenders also dislodged the invaders from positions in one sector inside the Volga industrial city.

Hundreds of Germans were reported killed when Soviet sappers blasted one of Stalingrad's main buildings which the Nazis had occupied. The large structure crumpled with a deafening roar when 250 pounds of dynamite was exploded by five red army men who volunteered to carry 50 pounds of explosives apiece up to the building. The sappers rushed the building under intensive fire from Germans equipped with tommy guns.

Deliver Counter-Blows

"Northwest of Stalingrad," the Soviet noon communique said, "our troops delivered counter-blows, dislodging the enemy from an inhabited locality."

The German forces pushed back inside Stalingrad suffered 600 casualties, the communique said.

Terrific street fighting raged in both the northern and southern portions of the city as the Germans, employing numerous tanks, sought to penetrate deeper and the Russians countered with artillery blasts and shellfire from gunboats on the Volga river.

German air forces roared over the city hour after hour and mobile Nazi field pieces maintained a non-stop barrage.

The Soviet high command said that repeated attacks by the Germans within the city were repulsed by the defenders and heavy losses inflicted on the Nazis.

In addition to the slaying of 600 Germans when the enemy was ousted from one position, Soviet forces slew 800 more Nazis on another sector.

Repulse 12 Attacks

The largest street battle so far occurred when several thousand Nazi infantrymen, supported by 200 tanks, thrust in toward the center of the city. Russian troops, battling back like wounded lions, repulsed 12 German assaults, dispatches from the front said. A total of 42 Nazi tanks were reported destroyed and tanks were reported destroyed and the attacks were halted without the Russians giving up an inch of ground.

Marshal Semyon Timoshenko launched renewed counter-drives northwest of the city after pounding the enemy heavily from the air. An artillery barrage followed the air bombardment by Russian planes escorted by fighters.

The Germans counter-attacked in sectors, dispatches from the front said, but were repelled in desperate fighting near two villages.

Russian troops then broke into German positions and forced the Nazis to retire. The battle continued to rage with unabated fury as the Soviets pressed their assault.

Southeast of the fallen Black sea naval base of Novorossisk, the red army high command said, superior numbers of German forces attacked Soviet positions but were repelled. Then the Russians counter-attacked and pressed the Germans back.

On the Leningrad front a series of German attacks in the area of Sinayvino were repulsed, the communique said.

The Soviet high command at Stalingrad threw into action every available weapon in a determined effort to repulse the invaders.

Ships of the Volga river naval flotilla joined with artillery batteries in a merciless pounding of Nazi positions within the city as bloody street fighting continued without respite.

against Germany proper since Saturday night when the city of Munich, Nazi party headquarters, and the industrial Saar area were bombed.

The air ministry announced that 10 bombers failed to return from the mission, indicating a force of at least 200 bombers took part in the raid.

Aircraft of the British coastal command meanwhile attacked an Axis convoy off the Dutch coast, scoring direct hits on three medium-sized vessels, the air ministry said.

The R. A. F. assaults were acknowledged by the Berlin radio.

The vows were exchanged at 7 o'clock in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives of the couple, with the Rev. Calvin Rose, pastor, officiating. He used the impressive, single ring service. For the occasion, the altar was prettily decorated with palms and ferns exclusively, and contributing further to the impressiveness of the occasion, the church organist, Miss Ruth Weir, included in her selections were "Because," "I Love You Truly," "At Dawning," The Lohengrin Wedding March was played for the processional and Mendelssohn was offered for the recessional.

Miss Florence Lavella was bridesmaid, and she chose a moss green velvet dress, with black accessories, complimented with a shoulder bouquet of yellow rose buds.

A congratulatory period followed in the church, and later a wedding dinner was served at a prominent suburban tea room to members of the immediate families.

As her only jewelry she wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rose Didianno, as maid of honor, was attired in a gown of deep rose with yellow accessories. Her bouquet was made of yellow roses.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

IF YOU ARE ASKED TO JOIN A FRATERNITY

Parents of students attending college should not feel that fraternities and sororities are unwise. There are some good fraternities and sororities. Young men and women who aspire to "make" one of them succeed or fail chiefly because of traits that have been developing since they were infants.

The best fraternity or sorority is, during "rush" weeks, looking for young men or women recruits who will help maintain the standards, honors and traditions of their organization; who will fit into the fellowship and carry their share of the load; who will keep a high average of scholarship.

Among the things watched in sizing up persons for "pledges" are manner, neatness of dress and person, poise, and ability to adjust one's self to the group.

Tips For Rushes

Here are some tips for the rushee on impressing fraternity men or sorority women: Have confidence in yourself. Look persons in the eye as you talk to them. Talk freely but in your turn. Don't feel you must talk much; be a good listener. Don't brag about your school accomplishments. Avoid uttering uncomplimentary remarks about any person, fraternity or sorority house.

Get the names of the members of the fraternity you have met correct. Remember these names.

In case you join a fraternity or sorority, you will live with the group you join for four years. Naturally, you want to be a member of an organization which is well thought of by students and faculty. You want fraternity brothers or sorority sisters of whom you are proud.

Similar Interests

You will want to join a well-balanced group; not a bunch of play-fellows. You want to be sure a number of them have ideals and interests similar to your own.

Notice how fraternity brothers or sorority sisters act toward one another. Be critical in your silent judgments, remembering that members are on their good behavior during rush week.

If you land in a worthy fraternity or sorority, living, eating and working with 25 or 30 fellows should do a lot to make you the well-rounded, likable individual who gets the most out of life. Also you will win thousands of brothers or sisters all over the country who will be a social as well as business asset in later life. Some students would better off outside of a fraternity or sorority; and some fraternities and sororities would be better off without certain students.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WORTH WHILE WORKER

An aircraft worker like H. O. Sawyer of San Diego has the spirit it takes to win. Doing a job passably well, doing only what is required of one and no more—that's not the stuff of which victories are made, either on the blazing field of battle or along the home-front production line.

As a craftsman in a large San Diego aircraft plant, this worker has turned out sixteen time-saving suggestions in the past two months. His efforts have brought him a reward of several hundred dollars in cash and war bonds. But the real significance of his suggestion is that eleven of them have already been put into operation and, according to company officials, five of them alone are making a short-cut through former production methods that will save eleven thousand man-hours a year.

By re-designing a part, devising a machine to do a job formerly performed by hand, removing various other kinds in the production line, this able craftsman has helped the output of the planes that will rain destruction and defeat upon the enemy.

Time is of the essence in this flaming, world-wide conflict. Shortcuts through time in moving bombers and fighting planes up into the battle zones strike needed blows in the fight to victory. More power to workers who strike those blows, and to wide-awake management that encourages and rewards them. Against formidable, ruthless, well-prepared enemies we've got to pit every ounce of energy and resourcefulness.

We can use them too little, but never too much!

Bible Thought For Today

Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his Lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him. John 13:16.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a man in the armed forces, don't fill your letters home with things which will be censored out. Confine your writing to the pleasant side of Army or Navy life, harmless gossip and affectionate greetings, which your friends and family will get intact.

America's birth rate is increasing. This while the chances of being born free are still open to all.

It would be a good thing to remove the benches from the park on the public square. Those who sit on them as a rule are not a good advertisement for the city. Why not move them up along the Neshaunock creek above the North street bridge where the scenery would about fit those who want to sit on benches.

In the old days of long skirts the girls without beautiful faces were at a disadvantage. It's different now.

Lady—"Sure an' do you think this is an information booth."

Some people don't like being advised not to worry. It worries them.

There are about four million of our boys in the armed service of this country now. Something real serious to think about!

One citizen to another: "The banker says if you will sign my note he will lend me some money." "I have a better plan," was the reply, "have the banker sign the note and I'll lend you the money."

THE SCIENTIST

The small son of a well-known electrical engineer is more familiar with the appliances of modern civilization than with the small things of nature, and when visiting the country unhesitatingly picked up a hornet to more closely inspect its mechanism. When his father hurried out to discover the cause of the commotion which immediately broke the peace of the summer day, the little lad was ruefully sucking a thumb while tears streamed down his face.

"Why, what is the trouble, son?" he was asked.

"It was that bug," he managed to explain between sobs. "I think his wrist is defective. I touched him and he wasn't insulated at all!"

Woman Barber: Ooops! Well, that's the way it is with temporary war workers. "EAR" today and gone tomorrow!

The waiter was taking the order of a pretty girl who was accompanied by a pudgy middle-aged man. When she did not mention the lobster included in the meal she ordered, he asked: "And how about the lobster?" To which the fair lady replied: "Oh, he can order whatever he likes."

COME AND SEE ME SOMETIME

Among those unhappy women who continually lose friends and brood over their waning popularity are the ones who accept your definite invitations and return them only with a casual "come around soon and spend the evening. Call us up at any time."

It is usually called back at you as an afterthought when you are parting. And most of us refuse to recognize such pretended pleasantries as sincere invitations. Those who want to retain or increase their list of friends must mention definite dates when they offer hospitality.

At regular intervals, make specific engagements with your friends setting a definite date for a visit. This is the best way of "keeping in circulation."

During our youth, we should make our friends so that we will avoid a lonely, empty middle and old age.

Question: I am to be married in church, wearing a bridal gown and veil. My reception is taking place in a hotel 15 miles away. Should I go home and change to my traveling dress before going to the reception?—Bride.

Answer: Every bride wears her wedding dress to her reception. If you do not wish to go home after you leave the reception, you might take along with you your traveling bags with your going-away dress and change at the hotel, if you hire a room for this purpose.

Question: Is it permissible, at a home wedding to invite friends to the ceremony only and not to the reception, which we plan for the family only?—Judy.

Answer: All guests invited to a wedding ceremony at home should be invited to the reception also.

ONE OR THE OTHER

The uncertainty of the cotton market is illustrated, a subscriber says, by the following conversation overheard between two colored men in a Texas town.

George (displaying a roll of bills): "See here, Sam. Ah's been on de boahd dis mornin'."

Sam: "Ah sees. But you won't have it to-morrow! You can't never tell about dis cotton market. It's liable ter go up, or it's liable ter go down, or it's liable ter fluctuate!"

Very often we hear the expression now "Until hell freezes over." That may be a long time if hell is anything like we have been told it is.

READY ARITHMETIC

"How many sheep have you got in this field?"

"Now, how many would you say?"

"Two hundred and fifty."

"Well, you are perfectly correct, but jiggered if I know how you counted so quickly."

"Easy enough. I just counted all the legs and divided by four."

Remember when no matter what happened, the farmer always had a living? That was before he began keeping books.

We notice some street car rails still on West Washington street. Wonder why?

If some birds would quit talking they wouldn't have anything to do.

BRIEF AND ACCURATE

A youngster in a primary school wrote the following about the pig: "The pig is very dirty and will eat anything but rhubarb. He has very little, if any, ambition for himself."

Sis' Caroline: "I heard Uncle Mose was goin' into business for himself. What's he gwine to do?"

Sis' Viney: "He's gwine to raise chickens for the quality folks. He's done bought one of dem prevaricators."

You may have noticed that a bow-legged girl never selects a dachshund when she wants a pet dog.

Funny about the scientists saying that only one-third of the brain works. Carrying two spares is unusual.

PROGRESS

Farmer: "Not Lem?"

Postmaster: "Yes, Lem."

Farmer: "By cricky it does beat all the way the young fellers are forgin' ter the front."

It is the duty of the people to be loyal, and the duty of leaders not to make it too darned hard to stay loyal.

PRACTICAL

Stump Speaker (boastfully): "I'm a practical farmer. Mention if you can, just one thing I can't do on the farm."

Railroads Facing Uncertain Future
Causing Most Worry For Economists
Competition Has Become Quite Keen

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Of all industries, post-war railroading is the one concerning which economists are beginning to do the most worrying, as that sort of conditions adapt themselves to the changing present and a none too accurately predictable future.

Other industries are being completely made over to meet current requirements, but there will be an immediate demand for them to readjust themselves backward to "normalcy" directly after the conflict's over.

In fact, they will be called on to do it in hot haste, since there will be a tremendous clamor for their multiplicity of classes of products, insufficiently available today and due to be less and less so as the strife strings along. Indeed, they are likely to think that they are enjoying a boom for a while.

Maybe it won't be a very healthy one and a slump will ensue and then a spell of depression. Nevertheless, civil life's consumerdom still need their stuff; they will have customers. Their taxes will continue to be terrific, but they will have trade, with a certain amount of profits from which to meet the revenue collector's exactions.

But will transportation by rail ever again be what it was before the war, and is yet with war working it up to the limit, as it is doing now?

Folk have to have clothes to wear, food to eat, shelter to live under, and there are no substitutes for them. The purveyors are bound to get that business, and it cannot be cut down on appreciably. They will screech over the taxes that they will have to pay, but most of them will survive, as industries.

Railroads' Rivals

The railroads, though, have competition.

They have had it in the form of automobiles and now they've got it (and it is getting worse) in the form of aviation.

With the war on, there's been such an increase in the volume of movements of passengers and supplies that the rails, far from having felt a pinch in their traffic, have been kept scrambling to handle it.

But what about the post-war era? To say the least, according to economic prophets, rail transport, both of passengers and freight, will subside materially.

The roads' taxes will not subside, though.

Moreover, experts' account is that their equipment, worked nearly to death and unavoidably falling into disrepair, from lack of labor to keep it shipshape is deteriorating, and.

One Man's Opinion

At Stalingrad the Russians set an all-time record for heroic resistance.

And at Moscow, the opera goes on as usual, the symphony plays Shostakovich's Seventh Symphony.

That will surprise some of our prissy citizens who sound off on complacency.

No one will deny that the Russians are a rough, tough people, fiercely patriotic. But Shostakovich finished his symphony at Leningrad while the Germans hammered on the city gates. And it is played at Moscow as the dead pile 20 feet deep at Stalingrad.

Here at home we have long-pusses telling us that everything must stop—that there is no time for relaxation or entertainment—that complacency must end.

The Russians are doing all right, listening to Shostakovich hasn't stunted their shooting irons or frozen their trigger fingers.

The Great Game Of Politics

Badly Timed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. NOT LONG ago Secretary of War Stimson, in a letter to Attorney General Biddle, requested that certain Government anti-trust proceedings be halted during the war on the ground that "it is clear these suits will impede the progress of the war effort by consuming the time of corporation executives and employees engaged on war work."

THIS SOUND contention was accepted by the Department of Justice and the policy urged by Mr. Stimson, concurred in by Mr. Knox and approved by the President, was supposed to be in force. But, temporarily relieved from interference by one Government agency, these great industrial corporations, upon which the country depends to win the war, now find themselves harassed and bothered by another—to wit, the Securities and Exchange Commission. Even the tremendous exigencies of the greatest war of all time seem not enough to discourage the business-baiting habit ingrained in this Administration.

RECENTLY, THE SEC has sent to many of the large corporations, whose shares are listed on the national securities exchanges, a proposed revision of the so-called proxy rules and regulations of almost unbelievable complexity. Men who have studied the proposal agree that compliance with the new rules, if promulgated, will not only impose enormous additional expenditures upon these corporations but will greatly add to the burden upon the executives, who are having all they can do now to meet the production demands of the WPB.

THEY ASSERT that these new rules will do exactly the thing against which Secretary Stimson warned—consume the time and divert the minds of men whose every energy should be concentrated upon the job of producing vitally needed war material. In addition, three other points are made. One is that it which already is of hampering quantity. Another is that it would

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

The health commissioner of Buffalo complains that residents of the city throw into their garbage cans enough food every day to feed ten thousand people.

There has been a tremendous increase in the amount of food wasted since so many people have been setting high wartime wages and buying extravagantly," says the commissioner.

"With whole nations starving in Europe this waste is not only uneconomical but highly unpatriotic." Waste, it seems, is to most people a tangible expression of wealth. It is a luxury to be enjoyed only by the affluent, particularly the newly affluent.

In the last war it was silk shirts and automobiles. "A dozen silk shirts in every drawer, two cars in every garage," was the slogan.

In this war it's food, wherever you go there's a shortage of the better cuts of meat, the better grades of fruit and vegetables, the higher priced coffees, the fanciest canned goods.

I had fully intended to preach to all of you a sermon on the sinfulness of waste. But, just a moment ago, I looked into our own garbage can.

Silently and with shame, I put back the cover and decided to change the subject.

But just one thought: Why can't we all waste 10 cents a day less per person and buy war stamps with the savings?

It will help our country and our digestion!

Many Apply For Air Training In V. F. W. Classes

Big Response To Appeal By Neshannock Post For Aviation Cadets

Twenty-four young men between the ages of 18 and 26 years who want to be Aviation Cadets in the United States Army Air Corps were present at the meeting held on Wednesday night in the rooms of Neshannock Post No. 315, V. F. W. for enrollment.

They will receive their first examination on next Monday evening in the post rooms, and if successful in passing will proceed on with the further training outlined.

It is stated by Earl B. Cummins, chairman of the post's committee in charge of enlisting youths for aviation training that any others in this age group, namely from 18 to 26 years, who wish to enroll in the class which is being formed, can present themselves Monday evening.

The post will help prospective cadets pass the army air and physical tests.

These young aviation candidates will be trained as pilots, bombardiers, navigators and for ground crew technical posts in the army air corps. Aviation cadets receive $75 per month base pay while training and eligible for army commissions on graduation.

The army air corps, and V. F. W. also is signing up students as aviation cadets and permitting them to finish their schooling.

In order to help prospective Aviation Cadets pass the army entrance examinations the local V. F. W. post is giving applicants a special medical examination. This enables candidates to correct minor physical defects which might bar them from passing in the air corps test.

The local V. F. W. post also is giving each applicant a short mental examination, similar to the required army "screening" test.

The V. F. W. mental examination determines in which subject the applicant needs "refreshing," so he may pass the army test. Failure to pass the army test bars an applicant for 90 days, so the local V. F. W. post also has arranged to give candidates instruction in subjects in which they are weak.

Making Plans For New Scrap Metal Drive

Plans are being made this afternoon by Ross D. Rosenberger, chairman of Scrap Collection and Louis B. Round, executive director of the Lawrence County Council of Defense, for a scrap drive which is hoped will surpass the one held earlier in the year.

The need for scrap grows more pressing every day. Furnaces are down because of the lack of it and efforts are being exerted over the country to get the scrap in.

Lawrence county's spring drive for scrap was one of the most outstanding in the country. Upon a per capita basis it is doubtful if any county in the state equalled it.

City Council Assails Action Of School Board And County Commission

In order that the Defense Plant corporation can be given a clear title for the steel mill property, council in meeting today in city hall instructed that the city solicitor certify 1941-42 county and city school taxes, amounting to $5,549.65 and deduct the amount from the $13,000 to be paid by the corporation to the city.

Council was indignant because of what the city claimed was an unfair act by both the county and school district, inasmuch as the city council asserted "the city took $13,000 of the city taxpayers' money to buy the property so it would be available for industrial purposes," for which it is now being used.

According to the arrangement the city bought the buildings from A. Dietrich and received the 53 acres free from the steel company. The government agreed to pay back the $13,000 to the city.

Because of the nature of the transaction it was believed by the city, council stated, that the county and school district would show the same regard for future industrial conditions here as displayed by the city.

However, today Solicitor White presented tax bills as follows: county taxes for 1941, $2,834.38 and 1941 school taxes, $2,209.29; for 1942, county taxes, $505.98, or a total of $5,549.65.

Solicitor White unburdened himself of pertinent remarks stating the county wanted so much tax from the $13,000 and also asserted: "If the school board had to do anything toward getting the property the city would not have gotten it. The county commissioners 'pass you around' and 'impose upon you.' They will listen to everyone who has a 'private racket' but impose upon the city."

Fear Eighteen Dead In Wreck

Nine More Injured In B. & O. Crash Near Baltimore, Md.

(International News Service) BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 24.—Eighteen persons were reported killed in a triple train wreck which killed up two Washington-bound flyers and a freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio road early today.

Headquarters of the railroad announced that all of the dead and missing were in a rear sleeping car of a B&O night express running from Cleveland to Washington.

There were twenty-one persons in the car and only three have been accounted for, the railroad announced. The car was derailed and overturned when the streamlined "Ambassador," from Detroit, telephoned it from the rear.

The wreck occurred near Dickerson, Md., when one of the passengers rammed into the rear of the other, and a passing freight then struck an overturned sleeper. Although no names of the possible dead were immediately learned, the following injured were admitted to nearby Frederick, Md., hospital: James Straub, Pittsburgh; Thomas Rogers, Pittsburgh; Richard Marriott, Warrenton, Va.; Phil Curran, Pittsburgh.

The B. & O.'s diesel-powered streamliner, "The Ambassador" crashed into the rear end of a sleeper train from Cleveland, derailling a sleeping car from the latter train.

Before word of the wreck could be spread, a fast, westbound freight struck the derailed sleeper as it lay in a narrow main line pass about a mile west of Dickerson, 35 miles from Washington.

The trains involved were No. 29 ("The Ambassador") from Detroit, and No. 18, from Cleveland. The Cleveland train had slowed down to investigate a mechanical difficulty, and an early morning fog is believed to have prevented the following streamliner from seeing it on the track ahead.

The Great Game Of Politics

furnish opportunity for what amounts to blackmail upon the part of a certain type of stockholders, owning only a negligible number of shares but making a practice of establishing their "nuisance value" and then capitalizing it. A third reason for the proposed revision of the SEC is in direct conflict with this trend. It seems clear that if our armed forces are to be adequately supplied it must be through the complete concentration of the management and employees of American industry on doing that job. For the Government to take any action which would distract them plays directly into the hands of Hitler.

Suspension Of State Unemployment Tax Is Being Suggested

By JOHN PAGET
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—Suspension of the state unemployment compensation tax with a consequent saving of $100,000,000 a year to 150,000 industries in Pennsylvania was suggested Wednesday by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

"With federal taxes necessarily at a record top, we suggest," stated William N. Hardy, P.N.P.A. manager, in a letter to a legislative investigating committee. "That it would be proper and fitting for the state government to suspend the unemployment compensation tax until such time as there is a greater drain on the fund than is the case now."

Hardy wrote the committee, which is engaged in a study of the jobless insurance law, that many P.N.P.A. members "have looked with askance at the rapid growth of the unemployment compensation fund and are of the opinion that it is an unsound economic policy to allow it to grow to such a height as is indicated by the latest report of the unemployment compensation fund balance."

Nearly $300,000,000 In Fund
There is now $290,000,000 in the fund and William E. Collier, associate director of the Unemployment Compensation Bureau, predicted that the fund will increase to more than $350,000,000 by the end of January 1943.

The fund, established in 1936, is supported entirely through revenue obtained from a flat 2.7 per cent. payroll tax. Approximately 3,000,000 workers in the state are now covered by the jobless insurance law, said Collier, and are paid state benefits from the fund when they lose their employment.

Demand on the fund for benefit payments have fallen considerably since the inauguration of the nation's defense program, while the fund itself has been increasing steadily.

Chairman John H. Dent, Westmoreland county assemblyman, pointed out that post-war unemployment employment would result in a greater drain on the fund. Other than that there was no comment from legislators on the committee on the proposal forwarded by Hardy.

On the close of the hearing, the second held in two days, the committee ends its investigation of the unemployment compensation law and will draft recommendations for the consideration of the General Assembly when it convenes in January.

Earlier, the committee received a detailed outline of the advantages of the merit rating system for employers from representatives of business and industry.

Junior Reading Circle Representative Aids War Bond Effort In County Bond Drive

County War Bond sales were boosted nearly $800 during the past month, as a result of a Junior Reading Circle project, when Miss Marian Ross, vice-president of this young women's civic club, under the auspices of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's clubs, devoted three Sundays, one at each of the city golf courses, to selling war bonds and stamps to Sunday golfers. Total sales were $764.80.

Assisting the Junior Reading Circle representative, on behalf of the bankers' division of the Lawrence county bond drive, were Miss Cecilia Dougherty and Lauri G. Laurel, both of the First National bank.

On the first Sunday, the trio were stationed at the Castle Hills course, on the second they went to the New Castle Field Club, and the third, to the Municipal course.

Everybody knows what action is necessary. The hard part is figuring how to do it without offending voters.

AROUND CITY HALL

City Engineer John Z. Street today announced that three-fourths of the curb has been installed in Croton avenue extension or the by-pass between South Jefferson and South Mill streets and curb is being placed around the spot where cars are parked and known as "The Island," which faces South Mill street. He warned today that parking on "The Island" has been banned and no machines should be parked there until the curbs have been installed.

Stone was being quarried today for the 12-foot sidewalk area along South Croton avenue extension. It was also stated in the city engineer's office that there is a stone wall along a portion of the north side of the by-pass and an additional stretch will be built.

Should the PUC permit the relocation of Sherman street railroad tracks of the P.R.R. and P. & L. E. R.R. the city proposes, at the city's expense, to pave Sherman street. Concrete will be laid. The city will also "tie-in" with this project the 10-foot stretch for the widening of South Jefferson street between Croton avenue extension and Moravia street. Concrete will also be used there.

OCD NOTES

Activities Of O. C. D. Workers Are Outlined In This Column

NEED MORE WORKERS

One week from tonight there will be a mass meeting of men and women of the Second precinct of the First ward for the purpose of obtaining more air raid wardens, fire watchers and auxiliary police for that district. At present, the Second precinct has only 15 or 20 persons engaged in this work and this number is not sufficient to perform the duties required according to Frank Gribben, who is the post commander. Beginning Friday 30 women will take a census of this precinct for the purpose of finding who is available for OCD service.

TAKE OATH TONIGHT

Twenty-seven air raid wardens and fire watchers from the Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Eighth precincts of the Second ward will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in senior high school according to Instructor Jack Preston where Chief Air Raid Warden Frank Sargent will administer the oath of office. Some air raid wardens and fire watchers of these precincts have not yet completed their studies but will be certified and be given the oath when they do. Incidentally, C. A. R. W. Sargent announced that any air raid warden, or for that matter, any OCD worker who has missed meetings has the opportunity of attending other classes and will receive credit for attendance.

READY FOR ACTION

OCD workers throughout the city got ready to respond to action when the Buffalo First Fighter command Tuesday night sent out a radio alert. However, they untied their shoes and shed their arm bands and went back to reading the newspapers when the all clear signal came.

Apple Storing Will Cost More

By JOHN C. LOESER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Pennsylvania warehouses handling and storing apples will be permitted to increase their present maximum rates, the Office of Price Administration has announced.

Increases are necessitated by higher warehouse operating costs and by the fact that previous storage rates were abnormally low, reflecting unusually depressed prices for apples in the state, the OPA said.

Pennsylvania warehousemen whose seasonal rates have been less than 20 cents a bushel, box or crate, will be permitted to increase their rates to 20 cents. Those whose rates have been below 50 cents a barrel will be permitted to raise their charges to 50 cents.

The amount of the increase may be added to the first month's charge only by warehouses whose 1941-1942 rates were quoted on a monthly basis but were subject to a maximum for the season of less than 20 cents per bushel or 50 cents a barrel.

Free Training For Technical Jobs In Industry

Women And Older Men Will Probably Train For War
Industry Jobs

Pennsylvania State College, under sponsorship of the U. S. Office of Education, will offer tuition-free evening courses to train men and women for technical jobs in local war industries. It was announced by Joseph F. Diffley, administrative head in New Castle.

In order to enroll for this federally financed training, it is necessary that prospective students do so during the regular registration nights October 5, 6 and 7, from 7 to 10 p. m., at New Castle high school.

Local industries are in urgent need of women and older men to take the places of those workers called by the draft. The courses are held two evenings a week, 3½ hours an evening, for the convenience of the majority of the students.

The courses offered are of college level and are designed to meet specific needs of local war industries for training men and women for definite employment. Here are the courses to be offered at the local center: Combustion of fuels, safety engineering, the making of steel, engineering drafting, job analysis and wage systems, chemistry of engineering materials, elementary and advanced fundamentals of electrical engineering, industrial electricity, foundations of engineering, industrial drafting practices, ordnance inspection, metallurgy of welding steel, industrial accounting, production control, time and motion study, and the production of non-ferrous metals.

Joseph: An Example Of Forgiveness

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Joseph making himself known to his brethren

"Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you."—Ephesians 4:32.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for September 27 is Genesis 45-50, the Golden Text being Ephesians 4:32, "Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you.")

Last week's lesson ended with Judah, Joseph's brother, pleading with him to let Benjamin go back to their father and keep him as a hostage after the finding of the silver cup in Benjamin's sack. Joseph knew that the time had come to tell his brothers who he was, so he sent all the Egyptians away, and then, moved to tears, he made himself known to them. His brothers were troubled by this

State Potato Crop Is Short

By JOHN C. LOESER
(Special Washington Correspondent,
New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Pennsylvania's potato crop this year will fall 2,370,000 bushels short of last year's harvest, according to the latest crop report of the department of agriculture.

The crop reporting board pointed out that a blight adversely affected late plantings in the state and estimated that this year's harvest would approximate 18,170,000 bushels as against 20,540,000 bushels in 1941. Yield this year is expected to be only about 115 bushels to the acre.

The two other eastern late potato states, Maine and New York, also are expected to yield crops short of last year's production.

Return Jap Medal Wrapped In Bomb

Naval Officer Asks Medal Received In 1898 Be Sent Back Fighting

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A 60-year-old navy petty officer who raised the first American flag over the Hawaiian islands in 1898 today gave the navy department a medal he received from the Japanese with the request that it be used in a bomb to be dropped on Japan. The navy said his request will be complied with.

The officer is Chief Boatwains Mate Joseph Francis Corbett of (25 Jackson avenue) Bridgeport, Conn. He received the medal while visiting Japan during the cruise of the U. S. battleship fleet around the world in 1908.

"I personally had the honor of being selected from the crew of the U. S. S. Philadelphia . . . to raise the American flag over the Hawaiian islands when the islands were annexed by the U. S. government in 1898 during the Spanish-American war," Corbett wrote when he forwarded his medal to the navy department.

"I therefore feel that, owing to the sneak attack by the armed forces of the Japanese government on these islands, at Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7, this medal should be returned by me so that it may be melted along with other scrap material and returned to Japan in the form of a bomb as a calling-card."

WAVES Enlistments Still Remain Open

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 24.—Women still may enter the first WAVES training school for enlisted personnel by applying now, the Office of Naval Officer Procurement announced here today.

Vacancies remain and applications still will be accepted, procurement officers in the Keystone hotel announced.

Applicants for the enlisted ranks will be considered if they are over five feet tall and weigh more than 95 pounds, but weight must be in proportion to height and build. Candidates for enlistment must have 12-20 vision in each eye, correctable to 20-20 with glasses. Hearing must be normal and teeth must be in good condition.

All enlisted women will be sworn in as apprentice seamen to be trained at Oklahoma A. & M. college, Indiana university or the University of Wisconsin.

GIBBS PEOPLES SERVICE STORE—204 E. WASHINGTON ST.

War Bond Sales Are Increasing

First Federal War Bond Station Reports Steady Increase In Sales

Sales of war bonds and stamps are steadily increasing at the First Federal war bond station on North Mill street.

Volunteer women of both the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross and the New Castle Women's club are enthusiastically pushing this war bond effort.

To date, the sales of bonds and stamps have amounted to well over $3,000.00 and are increasing by the day.

This bond station is kept open each day from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Monday night until 9 p. m. to accommodate the Monday evening shoppers.

When discussing the matter with an official of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, he expressed the association's very deep appreciation to the volunteers of both the Red Cross and the Women's club for their very splendid service in helping to increase the sale of war bonds.

This official stated that this type of operation has been used in some of the larger metropolitan cities and that it has been very successful, but that he knew of no community the size of New Castle that had attempted such a program.

He stated that officials of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, of which the association is a member, had enthusiastically commended the effort and that through them the matter was being brought to the attention of the officials directing the war bond effort in the Treasury department at Washington.

The ladies in the booth are pleased to give this service in connection with the war effort and they are hoping that they may have an opportunity of meeting many of their friends at the war bond station for the purchase of a bond.

Wendell Willkie Now In Moscow

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—Wendell Willkie, now in Moscow as special emissary for President Roosevelt, resumed his round of visits to Russian war factories today following a two-hour conference with Premier Josef Stalin.

It was assumed that Willkie transmitted to the Soviet chieftain a message from the president. Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov was present at the conference in the Kremlin.

Dump Truckers Meet With PMTA In City

Problems common to the dump truck division of the motor truck industry were discussed Wednesday night when a group of dump truck operators met with J. Fred Clarke, president of the Lawrence County Chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association and other officers of the chapter in The Castleton Hotel.

War conditions have brought peculiar problems to every section of the industry and knowing the work done by the PMTA in other sections of the industry the dump truck operators have decided to affiliate with the Lawrence County chapter. NOW, THEREFORE, I Chas. B. PROBABLY 250 LOST WHEN TWO SHIPS ARE SUNK ported lost. They were Lieut. Comdr. William Walter Graham, Jr., a native of Palmyra, N. J., and a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., who commanded the 1,500 ton Jarvis.

Lieut. Comdr. Gus B. Lofberg, a native of South Manitou, Mich., whose home address is listed as 95 Mission street, Santa Cruz, Cal., was in charge of the Little.

Presumably these two vessels were engaged in reinforcing and supplying American garrisons who have been holding the southern Solomons against repeated Japanese land, sea and air attacks.

The latest sinkings bring to about 10 the number of American vessels sunk and damaged since U. S. marines captured six Solomon Islands from the Japanese early in August.

In addition to those reported today, Navy officials announced the sinking of the Destroyer Blue, the auxiliary transport Calhoun, and one cruiser. In addition, two cruisers, two destroyers and one transport have been classified as damaged by Japanese forces.

Early in Campaign. While no time was specified in the communiqué on the loss of either ship, it was believed that the incident occurred fairly early in the Solomons campaign.

The Jarvis was last seen heading south from Tulagi to a southern base for repairs after being damaged.

"The Jarvis has been overdue for several weeks and intensive search by ships and aircraft has failed to locate her or reveal any trace of her personnel," the communiqué said. "It is assumed that she was sunk by enemy submarines or aircraft."

The Little was sunk more recently in the Solomons, apparently while participating in reinforcing American garrisons in that area.

The latest losses by U. S. Naval forces brought to 43 the number of American naval ships sunk to date in the Pacific. In addition, 12 have been damaged in action against the Japanese.

Many Jap Vessels Lost. In contrast, approximately 22 and possibly as many as 25 Nipponese vessels have been sunk or damaged since the Solomons action began. In all, unofficial estimates place Japanese ship casualties in the Pacific conflict at approximately 400 sunk and damaged by American Army and Navy forces.

The Navy's communiqué No. 131 follows: "The U. S. S. Jarvis (destroyer) which was damaged as a result of enemy air attacks off Guadalcanal, must be presumed lost at sea en route from Tulagi to a southern repair base."

"The Jarvis has been overdue for several weeks and intensive search by ships and aircraft has failed to locate her or reveal any trace of her personnel. It is assumed that she was sunk by enemy submarines or aircraft."

"The U. S. S. Little (small auxiliary transport) has been sunk by the enemy in recent operations in the Solomon Islands area. Approximately half of the personnel of the Little were saved."

"The next of kind of those lost have been notified."

Farm Machinery To Be Rationed

County Board To Administer
Provisions Of Regulations
Will Be Named Today

According to Dorris L. Fulman, chairman of the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation Association, farmers are now going to be rationed on farm machinery and a meeting will take place in his office this afternoon to pick the members of the board, of which he will be chairman. Two additional farmers will be named on the board, with two alternates, who will pass on the request of those wishing to make purchases.

Certain types of farm machinery will be frozen entirely, Mr. Fulman states, while in other instances, absolute need will have to be shown, and then the farmer will be able to make the purchase if such a machine is available.

In no case will a farmer be given priority to purchase if the old machine he has been using can be repaired. Complete details of the plan will be made public later, he advises.

Miss McCabe Is Kiwanis Speaker Wednesday Noon

Tells Of Work Being Done For Orthogenic Backward
Children

Miss Grace McCabe, teacher of the class for orthogenic backward children at the Lincoln and Garfield school, was the guest speaker at the New Castle Kiwanis club luncheon Wednesday noon, and told of her work among the backward and mentally deficient children at the school.

She was introduced by L. C. Black, principal of the school, who had charge of the program for the day. This work was instituted in the state in 1926, but it was not until 1936 that classes were formed in New Castle.

The children are graded according to their age and allowed to make their own progress. She cited instances of where surprising results have been obtained.

Miss McCabe stated that there is a definite need for such classes in every school, but at the present time there are only four, located in Croton, Mahoningtown, North street, and Lincoln and Garfield.

J. J. Alexander, president elect of the club, gave a brief report on the district conference held at Harrisburg, and Clarence M. England spoke about the war bond drive.

Mr. Alexander was a delegate to the conference, which was also attended by Secretary L. C. Mantz.

It takes the work of 18 men back home to keep a single soldier on the fighting front.

• From the first blueprint to the finished bomber, electric power speeds the production lines that are making America supreme in the air.

• In every other war industry as well, Uncle Sam outproduces the Axis because he commands the greatest supply of electric power in the world.

• That tremendous power advantage didn't just happen. Seven-eighths of it was built up by business management under public regulation — by men with a real incentive to work, create, succeed —and by the savings of millions of Americans invested in the electric industry.

• As the industry grew under the American system of business management, it employed more and more people, and served more and more people — at lower and lower price. Today, the average American home enjoys about twice as much electric service as it did 10 or 15 years ago — for the same amount of money.

• The many other industries that make America great grew the same way — under proved and practical business management. That way of life is a part of what this country's fighting for — and a big reason why we'll win — because every one of our 133 million people has a personal stake in it!

Beaver Falls Jeopardizes 'Cane' Record

Rivals Will Scuffle At Stadium Friday

Key Class AA WPIAL Embroglio To Start At 8 O'Clock; Valley Fans Foresee Beaver Falls Triumph; Invaders Pack Class, Balance, Team Depth, Versatility; "Hurricane" Work Overtime Wednesday Night; Overflow Crowd Anticipated.

Fully aware that their unblemished state is jeopardized by a foe equipped with class, balance, team depth and versatility, New Castle high's "Hurricane" gridsters worked overtime Wednesday night as they completed rigid exercises for Friday night's important Class AA WPIAL game with unbeaten Beaver Falls high here at 8 o'clock.

Ignoring the clicks of his watch, Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh held a session that extended well past the 6 o'clock mark. The tactical svenalgi checked every part of the "Hurricane" machinery.

Probably expecting the growing valley "Tigers" to hit their football to the stars, Bridenbaugh emphasized pass defense. He reminded his charges that the Falls crew tied 15 aerials last season and it is well to assume that pitches will be the order of the night for the neighboring foe.

Pass Up Scrimmage

Offensive tactics consumed part of the practice time. Fearing that his proteges might suffer additional injuries, Bridenbaugh passed up a scrimmage.

Jesse Gunn, who is still sporting a couple of miles of bandages on his right hand, and John Zubkovsky, whose left elbow is protected by a brace, participated in the session. Both gridsters will start in the crucial battle.

The local starting lineup will be the same as last Friday's, with Zubkovsky and Burris at ends; Roussos and Sanfilippo at tackles; Joseph and Razzano in the guard slots and Dave Genking at center.

The mail carrying crew pairs Robert "General" Lee and Russ "Ranger" Currie in the halfback seats; Pete Tedesco at quarterback, and Jesse Gunn at full. On defense, Gunn will move into one of the line holes.

Despite the fact that they dropped a 19-0 decision last year, Beaver Falls left the field fully satisfied that Lee had been checked. The local star was beautifully bottled, so far as his running was concerned. The "Tigers" are sure they'll duplicate.

Headed by 300-pound Tate, who drives through the line like an army tank, and Lloyd Bricker, who literally can thread a needle with his passes, Beaver Falls comes here with one of its greatest aggregations.

Massey, Carbone, Theliman, Tkacik and Tate, who will start, occupied the same roles last season. Bricker, Pietro, LaRocco, Onorosso and Anderson competed against the "Cane" in '41 and are certain to be in the firing line again. Around the valley town, Tiger followers predict a victory, which should give all the sundry an idea of what kind of a ball club Coach Ufena has knitted.

Use Warner System

The invaders employ "Pop" Warner's unbalanced line, single wing attack which has produced 106 points in three winning battles against Erie Tech, Freedom and Monaca. The opposition has scored nil, a good tip off on the defensive strength.

Barring rain, an overflow gallery is assured. The advance ticket sale is the biggest in several seasons. To accommodate the crowd, additional seats are being erected on the stadium side.

The battle will start at 8 instead of 8:15 o'clock.

Louis-Conn Fight May Cause Probe

Rep. O'Toole, N. Y., To Introduce Measure Calling For Investigation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Voicing indignation over provisions of the Louis-Conn heavyweight championship "charity" bout to be held on October 12, in New York, Rep. O'Toole (D-N.Y.) announced Wednesday he would introduce a measure calling for an investigation of the activities of the army in connection with the fight arrangements.

O'Toole declared that he wanted to probe "apparent favoritism" shown to certain members of the armed forces in permitting them to engage in their "former civilian pursuits for compensation."

While proceeds of the fight originally were supposed to go to army relief, arrangements have been made whereby the champion and the challenger will receive proceeds from the bout to pay off debts they owe to Mike Jacobs' Twentieth Century Sporting Club.

Conn owes Jacobs $34,500, while Louis is in debt to Jacobs and one of his managers, John Roxborough, to the tune of $100,951.53.

"This is making a mockery out of the army and a mockery out of charity," Rep. O'Toole declared.

The New York congressman sarcastically "wondered" whether the army would permit its "rank and file" soldiers to pay off debts by letting them engage in their former civilian jobs.

Additional Seats Are Being Erected At Taggart Stadium

Surplus Seats Will Accommodate Overflow Crowd Expected Friday Night

To accommodate the overflow crowd expected to attend the New Castle-Beaver Falls game here Friday night at Taggart stadium, two additional bleacher sections are being erected. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced today.

Two sections, capable of seating slightly more than 750 persons, are being set up on either side of section 4 in front of the concrete stands, near the New Castle players' bench. Gardner stated that tickets for this particular section will go on sale on Friday night at 7 o'clock at one booth—the south end booth at DuShane street, midway between the stadium and the Ben Franklin shop building.

"Tickets for these surplus seats will be sold exclusively at the one booth. To avoid confusion, fans are urged to purchase tickets for the additional seats at the designated booth," Gardner emphasized.

Ducats for these seats will sell for 50 cents plus a 5-cent tax. Because of the advance sale, crowd officials foresee an overflow crowd, in the event of good weather, and are taking steps to accommodate the crowd.

Tiny World Series Will Start Tonight

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 24.—Two ball clubs that finished third in their respective leagues, Columbus in the American Association and Syracuse in the International, were to begin hostilities tonight for the minor league championship of the world.

Manager Eddie Dyer of the host Red Birds nominated Bill Crouch for mound duty in the junior world series inaugural while rival Manager Jewell Ems indicated that Clay Lambert, leading Chief hurler during the regular season, would handle mound chores for the invaders.

Crouch won 11 and lost 12 during the official season while Lambert was credited with seven wins against three setbacks, working mostly in relief roles.

A. C. Hyde, one of the most ardent New Castle high followers, spends the afternoon hours watching his close friend, P. H. Bridenbaugh, send the "Hurricanes" through daily paces. "I look forward to the daily Taggart stadium visits," the Mahoningtown resident said.

Taggart stadium's lighting system will have to undergo a minor operation before Friday. No less than 13 bulbs popped during last Saturday night's demonstration. The damage totals about $70.

Cards Need Two Wins To Sew Up National Confalon

Etten's Grounder Ruins Perfect Game For Brooklyn's Larry French

BEAZLEY TWIRLS 20TH FOR CARDINALS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The backs, the hearts and the hopes of the Brooklyn Dodgers and their fans have been battered and broken many, many times in the past few weeks as the St. Louis Cardinals, surging from some 10 games in the rear, stamped on into first place in the National league pennant race.

We doubt, however, if the Bums, National league champions last year, and what is left of their faithful fans, ever felt lower than they do today as they contemplate the events of the last 24 hours and a two and one-half game deficit in the league standing.

Larry French, 34-year-old veteran, making his first appearance on the mound since August 30, came within one pitch of a perfect ball game in blanking the Phillies, 6-0, for the Bums yesterday. This pulled them to within two games of their hated St. Louis rivals and if the Cards blew last night's game to Cincinnati—Brooklyn would have its teeth deep in the Cards' necks once more.

So what happens! Rookie Johnny Beasley, a kid they never heard of before the season opened, comes out under the lights at Sportsman's Park, St. Louis, and throws himself a two-hitter—beating Bucky Walters and his Reds, 4 to 2, to leave the pennant race just where it was before the long day began!

Need Two Wins

Here's the setup. If the Cards win two of their remaining three games one with the Reds, and two with the Chicago Cubs, they will clinch the pennant. If they win one and lose two, and the Dodgers can take all four of their remaining contests, from the Boston Braves and Philadelphia, the race will end in a tie.

French was a very unfortunate gentleman at Ebbets field. In the second inning Nick Etten drove a free-bouncing grounder over second base. Pee Wee Reiser, the Dodger shortstop usually comes up with that kind but yesterday the ball hopped over his glove and continued on into center. It had to be called a hit.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Larry MacPhail, who resigned as president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, is one of the men of the first A. E. F. who tried to kidnap the Kaiser following that war. He will enter the army today as a lieutenant-colonel. He's hoping that if he should make an attempt to kidnap Hitler he will not fail. Jackie Conn, who fought here as an amateur and who had a brief professional career, has been released temporarily from the New Cumberland reception center, where he is a private, to help his big brother Billy train for what may mean the capture from Sergeant Joe Louis of the world's heavyweight boxing title by Billy, who now is a corporal.

Some of the boys are becoming itchy for a fistie show here. However, weather is too hot at present for folk to crowd inside and the Jefferson A. C. will have to make a survey of the surrounding district to ascertain how many amateur boxers are left. Most all of them either have gone or are going into military service. Those who will appear here this winter will be boys either too young or with dependencies. And writing of amateur boxers, Les Leasure, local welterweight, is now in foreign service, so we hear.

Clem General, former baseball player and later an umpire, is now a private at Fort Meade, according to a postal card we received today. "Whitney" Richards has received a leave of absence from the police department and will be off for the army in the near future—his second war.

FAIR or FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
INS Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Due to the American League schedule, the Boston Red Sox won't play another ball game until the coming weekend when they and the Yankees will windup the season at Boston. In the meantime, Manager Joe Cronin, of those Sox will no doubt spend his waking hours dwelling on the strange coincidence that has made heroes of some ball players and bums of others.

This refers to the fact that the St. Louis Cardinals currently are hailed as a group of young geniuses because they have won 37 of their last 44 games, up to Wednesday. In the process have just about clinched the National League pennant with that remarkable streak, which Cronin must contemplate with considerable bitterness.

Club That Trails

For his Sox have won 33 of their last 43 in the American League and are still 9½ games behind the Yankees who clinched the pennant while the Sox were right in the middle of all that. The Cards can make it to the pennant, as expected, with 500 ball. The Red Sox couldn't windup better than a poor second no matter what they might do. They remain simply the club that always trails the Yanks.

And the Sox have done just as much winning from the top clubs as they have from the tail-enders. As a matter of record, they have whopped the Yankees themselves 11 times against 10 defeats and, moreover, they have had a good tough team all season, one that cut the Yankee lead down to a mere whisper at one stage of the race.

They've had some pitching and power and they still have and will have at the finish the leading hitter, run-driver and home run hitter in Ted Williams and in second best hitter in Johnny Pesky.

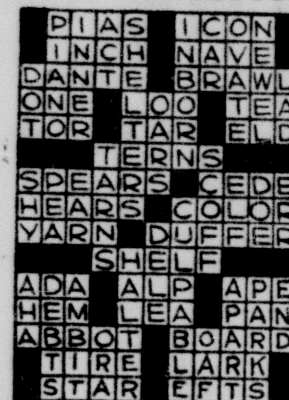

The Red Sox already have scored 92 victories for the best record of any Red Sox team since 1917, and they came very close to overhauling the Yankees, the result of which might have been an ultimate Red Sox victory in the pennant dash.

The Yankees, however, unlike the Dodgers, don't let contenders get in front, or they don't let them get to the chagrin of Cronin. He points with considerable pain to the fact that in one stretch this season his club won seven out of eight and still lost ground. There was nothing he could do against the Yanks this time. When they got their big slump they managed to bounce out of it before it was too late and they went right on from there to the pennant in customary fashion.

Aside from what Cronin has done this season to clinch second place, take a look at the St. Louis Browns nestling safely in third place. They've got their spot sewed up, too, and if ever a man deserved the plaudits of the fans in accomplishing big things it is Luke Sewell, who pulled the Browns from nowhere into the first division—beaten by only the Yanks and Red Sox and safely ahead of such worthies as the Cleveland Indians, who haven't yet clinched fourth. The Detroit Tigers still can dislodge them, and hand the Indians the terrible disappointment of a second division finish.

First . . . does any one have an Eskimo Spitz dog that they would like to give away? A home that would really take care of a fine dog wants one of these breeds, so if you have one, won't you call us or send in a postal card with your name and address. Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

The committee in charge of working out the plan for the "Lawrence County Farm Produce Show" met this week and have set the dates for the event, November 19, 20 and 21st. Here in New Castle. All the various growers and poultry growers of the County are joining together for this show. They will show to the buying public the products that Lawrence County will produce . . . you won't believe it but last year Lawrence County farmers produced about 120,000 bushels of potatoes. That my friends is a pile of potatoes. Keep your eyes open for home grown produce

Many Respond To Appeal To Help Save Bean Crop; Over 50,000 Baskets Picked

All danger of a loss of beans due to a shortage of bean pickers, seems past now and from the indications today, nearly 50,000 baskets of beans, averaging 14 pounds to a basket will be harvested by J. H. Weinschenk and his sons of Savannah. Of this number about 35,000 will be string beans and the balance yellow wax.

"It looks bad for a time," said Joseph I. Weinschenk. "The beans were coming on full, and we were short of pickers. Thanks to the New Castle News and to Dorris L. Fulkman of the Soil Conservation Association the people were told of the need for pickers and they responded beautifully. Men, women and youngsters, all of them seemingly anxious that our crop not rot on the vines. The pickers have done a fine job and inside of the next week or ten days the crop will be harvested."

School children in the vicinity were dismissed early so that they could help with the harvest, and many persons not needing to work, but anxious to help Mr. Weinschenk in his distress also responded. It was a fine example of community cooperation.

The interior of the crop room at Weinschenk's is interesting. The beans are started down a long machine. As they pass through the machine they are dusted, later on they are graded for size and come out into the baskets.

Cucumbers are given the same treatment except that each cucumber get a coat of wax to preserve it somewhat. In addition to the beans and cucumbers, the Weinschenks have a huge crop of cabbage.

Jealous, Murders Philadelphia Girl

Slayer Seized In Camden As He Boasted Of The Fatal Shooting

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—Willard Johnson, 28, faced murder charges today after allegedly confessing that he fatally shot his former sweetheart, 27-year-old Marie Ervin, in her third-floor Philadelphia apartment yesterday.

Seized in a Camden, N. J. taproom, Johnson signed a formal statement admitting the slaying, detectives said. He was arrested when a Camden woman phoned police that the suspect "was boasting he had killed a Philadelphia girl."

Reconstructing the crime, authorities said the killer walked to the steps of Miss Ervin's apartment house, assembled a knocked-down shotgun and went upstairs. Children playing in the street heard a shot and then the man came out and stroled calmly away.

Johnson was jealous, it was said, of another man's attentions to the victim. The girl laughed at his asserted threats, however, and refused to request police protection, according to detectives.

State Scrap Drive Past Half-Way Mark

Lehigh County Still Leads 46 Counties With Almost 3,000 Tons Collected

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Sept. 24.—Pennsylvania passed the half-way mark today in the "scrap harvest" drive with 46 counties reporting collections totaling 18,147 tons of iron and steel for Uncle Sam's war machine.

The state salvage committee announced that Lehigh County still led the state in collections with a total tonnage of 2,702 tons.

Lycoming County continued in second place, followed by Fayette and Lancaster counties.

Many principal export markets for Argentina grains have been closed by the war and stocks of wheat early this year totaled between 12 and 13 million bushels, the Department of Commerce says.

Dies should be in the state department. He also likes to fight our friends and appease our enemies.
